DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. Since allowable subject matter has been indicated, applicant is encouraged to submit formal drawings in response to this Office action. The early submission of formal drawings will permit the Office to review the drawings for acceptability and to resolve any informalities remaining therein before the application is passed to issue. This will avoid possible delays in the issue process.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1, 2, and 5-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Acatrinei et al. (6,465,990) in view of Ker et al. (6,002,568).

Acatrinei et al. disclose the claimed invention except for use of LVTSCR as a switching element. Ker et al. teach replacing SCR with LVTSCR. Acatrinei et al. discloses a power factor correction circuit in Figs. 2A, 2B and 3A. One or more accumulation capacitor (1, 2, 41, 42 & 49), switching elements (3, 4, 5, 43 & 46), capacitor in parallel during charging cycle and in series during a discharging cycle (see Abstract line 1), clock circuit (80) and switching elements may be MOSFETs, IGBTs, Bipolar transistors, SCRs, Tracis etc, (Col. 7, lines 14-24). Ker et al. teach replacing an SCR with LVTSCR (low voltage triggering SCR's) is an equivalent structure known in the art (Col. 4, lines 60-62). Therefore, because these two SCRs were art recognized equivalents at the time the invention was made, one of ordinary skill in the art would have found it obvious to substitute the SCR of Acatrinei et al. for the LVTSCR of Ker et al. in order to effectively protect the circuit by lowering the trigger voltage.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 3, 4 and 11 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

5. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: None of the cited prior art disclose or teach a charge pump with two LVTSCR and a commutator separating the accumulation capacitor and output capacitor.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Fong discloses a charge stacking on chip high voltage generator and method. Buchmann discloses a voltage multiplier. Vashchenko et al. disclose a LVTSCR with a holding voltage that is greater than a DC bias voltage on a to-be node.
